Re: Application of Margaret Kay

To whom it may concern:

On occasions the request to provide a letter of recommendation brings with it a heavy burden of couching statements to be honest but mildly deceptive. No deception will be required in this letter as the endorsement can be done not only honestly but with sincere enthusiasm.

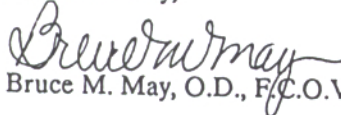

Margaret Kay has demonstrated a level of ability and caring far above that of her peers. We have had the distinct pleasure of working with her for a period of many years and are constantly amazed at her continuing dedication to both her patients and her profession. The creativity, vitality and perceptive understanding she brings to her chosen field qualifies her as unique from any point of view.

We have been most impressed with Peg's willingness to take a strong stand against the prevailing wisdom, the traditional thinking, when she firmly believes that a different posture will provide the help, guidance and assistance so needed by the clients she serves. She has repeatedly demonstrated that she will not be reluctant to address adversity when such a course is in the best interest of those who have sought her care.

Mrs. Kay is not only an enthusiastic student but a very able communicator and instructor as well. Two years ago we were fortunate enough to participate in a program she presented to a seminar of members of our profession. Her sincerity, forthright honesty and depth of knowledge made this a most valuable experience for all those who participated.

Without reservation I would recommend the licensing of the Tutoring Network. There is no question in my mind that any endeavor in which Mrs. Kay is involved will make significant contributions to those she will serve. Pennsylvania would be well served if there were more caring professionals such as Mrs. Kay.

Most sincerely,

Bruce M. May, O.D., F.C.O.V.D.
